SUNKEN GARDEN ON MUNDY HEIGHTS IS PLANNED

Revised Map of New Addition Is Accepted by Council.

The city's chain of parks and park plots is to be increased by the addition of a park tract in Mundy Heights which will later be converted into a sunken garden of the type used in the beautification of Kansas City.

At the council meeting Thursday morning the second revised map of Mundy Heights was accepted, with provisions referring to the straightening of certain streets in Mundy Heights. Included in the acceptance of the official map, which was tendered by Judge A. G. Foster and H. M. Mundy, the whole of block four, which is on Lawton street was set apart for park purposes and will be converted into a sunken garden at the suggestion of the owner as soon as the city is in position to improve the property. Commercial street in this addition was also dedicated as a street by the new map and other streets straightened and everything arranged for the final acceptance of the map by ordinance which will be drawn by the city attorney.

Alderman Hewitt Presides.
Mayor Kelly being absent from the city, alderman Hewitt, who has been filling the triple role of alderman, police judge and mayor pro tem, presided. Alderman Blumenthal was absent on account of the Yom Kippur observance, aldermen McGhee and Clayton being present in addition to the mayor. More unsanitary houses were recommended to be condemned by the board of health, the city health officer filed his weekly report and the routine business of the council was attended to by the three men quorum.

Prosecuting Butcher.
Assistant city attorney Volney M. Brown reported that the first prosecution for a violation of the ordinance of Aug. 11, prohibiting the sale of, and keeping and exhibiting for sale of, undrawn poultry, resulted in the conviction last Tuesday, when a jury in the case of M. Melvin returned a verdict of guilty and assessed the fine at $15. The report stated that the evidence showed that the poultry had been slaughtered for 24 hours and were still undrawn.

Oliver Carr asked permission to have his public auto stand in front of the Club House cafe. The request was granted upon the written recommendation of alderman Blumenthal and upon motion of alderman Clayton.

Poultry Dispute Settled.
W. N. Small withdrew his petition to have work stopped on the construction of the Texas company's oil tanks near the El Paso foundry. The withdrawal was made through the committee on streets and grades. The construction of the tanks, which was stopped by order of the council, will be resumed.

The City's Health.
Dr. W. H. Anderson made his weekly report of the health department for the week ending Thursday, Oct. 13. The report showed that 247 meat market inspections had been made and 414 pounds of meat condemned. A total of 100 dairy inspections had been made, 39 slaughter houses visited, 25 milk wagons inspected, 20 meat wag-

OFFICERS CAPTURE GAMBLING OUTFIT

Make Raid on San Antonio Street Rooms But No Players Found.

A water haul was what the constable's office made Wednesday night when they raided what they thought was a real live poker game, kitty ante and all, over the Goldman clothing store on San Antonio street. Constable R. F. Mitchell, accompanied by deputy constables Brown and Finley, and patrolman Ware, from the city force, raided the supposed club room which have an entrance from San Antonio street by way of a stairway at 217 San Antonio.

A chest of poker chips, two poker tables with ample slots for the customary rakeoff of the kitty, and 15 chairs were secured in the raid, but nary a "sitter-in." The little social session with the poker chip attachment which was thought to have been in progress, had adjourned for the night. The equipment of one first class poker room is now in the basement of the county courthouse in custody of the constable.
